All these activities are related to handling of massive data and information of students who are currently studying or pass outs along with the staff details are important records that a school or college management cannot afford to misplace. Manual processes require more time and resource to capture these details and at the same time, it is prone to human errors and data duplication. Further, if the institute has multiple branches, it is nearly impossible to manually integrate all the data. Hence, institutes need an education management software that can securely store and maintain all these pieces of information.
